Walking the Origins© Map – Practitioner’s Programme

Origins© is our response to a growing community of practitioners asking for more accessible and practical ways to explore the past with their clients. It is a growing resource hub and learning experience that equips you with new tools, practices, and applied methods. The focus is on moving beyond theory into practical application.

At its heart, Origins© helps you and your clients uncover the meaning behind behaviours and use that insight to create change, build new narratives, and integrate more fully.

Why Origins©?

- Designed for practitioners who want to move from concept to application.
- Offers clearer language to engage clients in exploring meaning-making.
- Provides practical tools that can be used immediately in your sessions.
- Expands your ability to make a lasting impact in the lives of those you serve.

Programme Outline

As part of Origins©, we are launching a new practitioner journey: Walking the Origins© Map.

This programme introduces a fresh way of working with clients through:

- The New Origins© Map

A refined lens for exploring client meaning-making, building on the original BDMM framework.

- Walking the Map with Clients

An experiential practice that turns the framework into a living, applied process that deepens insight and transformation.

- Practical Tools and Applications

Go beyond inquiry into action with concrete, adaptable methods you can integrate straight into your practice.

What You'll Receive as Part of Your Registration:

- A free copy of Unfolding to enrich your learning.
- A large, high-quality printed Origins Map for use in client sessions.
- A step-by-step e-book with clear guidance on applying the discovery process with your clients.
